

enTranslate

Automated Translation & Captioning

enTranslate, when used with enCaption, automatically translates and captions words for live broadcasts, meetings, live streams, presentations, and VOD assets.

Automatic Live Translation

Automatically translate live or existing content to one of the 27+ languages available with enTranslate. Plus, you can translate multiple languages simultaneously. Supported languages include English, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Spanish, and many more!

Powerful Solution

enTranslate is a robust solution to meet the needs of television broadcasters, government institutions, universities, corporations, houses of worship, and many other industries. Whether you are captioning for broadcasts or translating for school lectures, enTranslate is ready to go when you are, and without the high costs associated with a live translator.